EB-2010-0245 –Comments of City of Kingston

As was the case in 1999 when the first application for the Gas Marketer's license was made, the City of Kingston is a non-rate regulated gas distributor and as such offers only system gas to its customers. The Board has provided a number of exemptions from the Gas Marketers Code of Conduct (Board File EB-2009-0051) to address the fact that the City is a gas distributor. Once the new Code has been finalized, the City of Kingston will be filing an application for certain exemptions to the new Code to reflect the status as a distributor.

With respect to the Disclosure statements, in order to avoid any confusion regarding the facts that Kingston City Council determines and approves gas distribution rates for customers in the former City of Kingston, we request that a link to the Utilities Kingston website be placed on the Board site that would re-direct City of Kingston customers. The City will investigate the creation of a similar rate calculator to assist customers in making the correct price comparisons.

Sincerely,
