Enclosed are comments on stray voltage from our point of view.

Feel free to call me if you have any questions about this submission.

I wish to commend you and your team on the approach that you have given this important issue for dairy farmers. So far, it was done with a science-based approach, a transparent consultation process and all-around professionalism.

It is my hope that the Ontario Energy Board will be able to complete its mandate with solid recommendations and that concrete results will come out of your directives. We need to completely eliminate the effects from stray voltage on our dairy cows in Ontario. You can make a difference.
